CELEBRATING CONSTRUCTION FROM THE GROUND UP

FROM KYLE HOLLAND, AGC HOUSTON PRESIDENT/CEO

On behalf of the AGC Houston Board it is my great pleasure to welcome you to the APEX 15 Awards Gala. Even though it was just last year that we all gathered to celebrate the many outstanding projects, it is exciting to get back on to our regularly scheduled biennial programming. As we move forward from the intensity of the pandemic, it is always amazing to see how our members kept building in spite of the challenges, and how impressive these projects really are!

Many, many thanks to all our member firms that entered projects, we are certainly excited to be able to celebrate all of you this evening. And an especially huge thank you to all of our judges who committed their time to helping us narrow the list of projects down and award our Gold, Silver and Bronze awards. As with many things in the world today, we took the "hybrid" approach to the judging process, opting to utilize both an in person judging day AND a virtual judging day, which allowed us to be more efficient with everyone's time while still adequately showcasing some amazing projects to our judges.

Always a highlight of the Gala is the presentation of the Master Builder Award. As one of the most well-respected members of the construction community, the Chapter is proud to recognize the late Steve Dishman as the APEX 15 Master Builder. Steve's legacy at Brookstone, along with his contributions to the AGC and the rest of the built environment in Houston certainly qualify him as a true Master Builder. While it is regrettable that we must present this award posthumously, we are very excited to have his family join us this evening to accept the award. The entire AGC Houston community extends a warm thank you and congratulations to the Dishman Family for Steve's invaluable contributions to the industry and community at large.

On behalf of the entire staff, thank you to all of our sponsors who help to make this event so special; please check out the full list of sponsors. Finally, thank you to all who support our chapter in so many different and important ways. Thank you for being part of this special evening!

Sincerely,
Kyle Holland
President/CEO, AGC Houston

THANK YOU TO OUR JUDGES

It is with gratitude that we thank the judges of 2022 APEX, and without the dedication and expertise of these professionals our celebration of the built environment would not exist. The fuse was short this year, but this group of architect, engineer and contractor judges rose to the occasion, both in person and virtually, to produce the best crop of APEX winners in recent years. We also would like to recognize QDI Surfaces for sponsoring this year's judging day and well as the drivers who heroically braved Houston traffic and transported our judging teams about town. Thank you, again, for your hard work.

STEVE DISHMAN, 1951–2022

Steve Dishman began his nearly half century long career in construction as a Field Office Manager with Vanco Construction after graduating with a B.S. from Oklahoma State University in 1973.

Steve joined Brookstone Construction in August 1977 as a Project Manager, assuming the President role in 1992, then transitioning to Chairman in 2021. Working alongside John Carson, his longtime business partner and friend, they grew the company to become one of the premier General Contractors serving the Greater Houston area, working on a diverse group of project types across the community, religious, educational and aviation markets.

During his 45 years with Brookstone, Steve was actively involved in promoting and improving the construction industry through his years of commitment and service in the Associated General Contractors (AGC) Houston Chapter, serving as Chapter President in 1999 and lifetime member of the board of directors; in the AGC Texas Building Branch where he served as President in 2007; and in AGC of America on the board of governors. Steve was a founding member and chair of the AGC Houston's AIA/AGC Joint Committee on Construction Practices, a board member of the Construction Career Collaborative, and a past board member of the Rice Design Alliance. Always committed to continuous learning for himself and others, Steve earned his certification as a LEED Accredited Professional in 2005.

Steve was passionate about building the right way, and his consummate curiosity to understand technical details and systems made all who collaborated with him better builders. He firmly believed that cultivating mutually respectful relationships was critical to resolving issues and getting things done in our industry. This was evident in the strong ties he had with other general and specialty contractors, architects, engineers, and owners.

Steve was proud of the important contributions our industry makes to communities. He loved building projects which upon completion he could stand back and realize an accomplishment that had a positive impact for the people who would occupy the space. The construction profession had meaning to Steve, as many benefited from a building's use and purpose.

Steve personified the saying "if something is worth doing, it's worth doing well", applying this to all aspects of his life, both professional and personal, right up to his final days. Steve passed away in March 2022 while participating in one of his most passionate hobbies, riding vintage British motorcycles while at a rally in Tasmania, Australia. His legacy lives on in Marilyn, his wife, and their son, Will, and family, as well as the countless individuals who were blessed to know him as leader, mentor, and friend.
